Success! An OhioRISE Youth Meets Two Goals in Their Child- and Family-Centered Care Plan After Empowerment From Their Care Coordinator!

An OhioRISE care coordinator reported their excitement after learning that an OhioRISE member felt empowered to meet two goals in their OhioRISE care plan. The youth was very nervous about starting high school, meeting new people, and making friends, so the care coordinator encouraged the youth to join extracurricular activities to make friends and have positive relationships. After school started, the care coordinator learned that the youth had felt empowered to join extracurricular activities, take classes that interested them, and expand their social circle. The youth's success in making connections and doing things they enjoyed checked off two of their care plan goals and are giving the youth lasting social supports we hope will stick with them long after they graduate from OhioRISE!

How are the OhioRISE CMEs Building Community Relationships to Support OhioRISE-enrolled Children and Youth?

On September 8, Cincinnati Children’s HealthVine invited behavioral health (BH) providers, child protection agencies, and other community stakeholders in South Central Ohio to gather for a roundtable discussion on the following topics:

- The current state of BH for children and youth.
- Opportunities for intervention.
- How OhioRISE services can support children and youth.

Over 40 individuals representing 20 agencies and organizations attended this OhioRISE community engagement event. Attendees are now equipped with the OhioRISE resources to collaborate and support OhioRISE’s vision for the system of care for children and youth!

“ It was exciting to see the collaboration across different attendees around ways to coordinate care and improve access for youth with complex behavioral health needs. We are so appreciative of the partnership from the attendees, ODM, and Aetna.
- Jessica McClure, PsyD, Medical Director of BH at HealthVine ”

Community relationships are vital to supporting OhioRISE children, youth, and their families. Click here for information on how to contact your local OhioRISE CME!
